FOREWORD

May this yearbook be a monument to commemorate the things we, the class of 1951, have achieved and the many wonderful times we have had in Scotch Plains High School, and in the coming years may the Lord watch over and protect us all.

DEDICATION

Every class needs a guide. Our first was the very best one possible. He started us working together to make our high school years happy ones. He has been our friend and ally, and has gladly helped us solve our many problems. We all agree that Mr. Stolt is the perfect answer to the old saying, "A friend in need is a friend indeed."

The Frank W. Westcott Chapter of the National Honor Society was founded in 1933. The aim of this organization is to create enthusiasm for scholarship, to stimulate a desire to render service, to promote worthy leadership, and to encourage the development of character in the pupils of Scotch Plains High School.

The membership of the National Honor Society is comprised 15% of the Senior Class and 5% of the Junior Class selected from the first third of each class ranked scholastically.

To be chosen for membership in the National Honor Society is the highest honor that can come to a high school student.

Senior maintaining at least a "C" average are selected for Service Club. Before the bell, you see the members rushing to their posts to direct traffic.

Their job is not to find fault with pupils doing something; rather the purpose of the club is to bring about good citizenship among the students. This organization meets once a month to discuss ways of improving our school.

A successful roller skating party was held on November 17. The Service Club is to be commended for its success in keeping order in our halls and also for assisting the faculty.

The Library Council was organized in 1942. It meets once a month in the library under the supervision of Miss Ayers, our Librarian. Each council member spends at least two periods a week working in the library. This work consists of checking books in and out, mending them, keeping them in order on the shelves, and collecting fines. One school credit is gained for the students' work.

The council does a fine job and keeps our library in excellent order. It's work lightens Miss Ayers' many tasks.
Flash! Read all about it! The new and better Fanscotian is out. This year it was sold by subscription only. The idea worked out very well.

Leila Hazel and her staff worked hard all year and produced a top-notch paper under the excellent direction of Miss Makovsky and Mrs. Russo.

The purpose of the Fanscotian is to report all the important activities of SPHS. It accomplished this very successfully.

Our Audio-Visual Aids Department is one of the hardest working parts of our school system. The projection squad supplies several hundred dollars worth of equipment each year.

The students on the squad make it possible for us to have many extracurricular activities and also they make school work more pleasant by showing films.

The projection squad has done a fine job this year thanks to much time and energy spent well and the competent supervision of the advisor, Miss Lusk.

This year Los Majaderos was carried on under the able guidance of Miss Makovsky. The name of the club, translated into English, means "The Blockheads." The purpose of the Spanish Club is to create an interest and appreciation for the culture of Spanish speaking countries.

Among the club's activities was the annual Christmas party, where the "pinata" was broken and everybody received a present. Also, there was the trip to New York, which was the most exciting of all.
ADVISOR—VERNE HENRY
The Art Club is one of the more useful groups in our school. In the fall they produced many posters reminding us to keep our school clean. These were not the only posters the club made. It is the custom of the Art Club to put Christmas scene on our front doorway.
The purpose of the club is to cultivate the artistic ability of interested students. They seem to be doing very well.

The Commercial Club has always been a club for secretarial students, but now those who take typing may join. The purpose of the club is to help the students in getting awards for good stenography and typing at the end of the year. The Commercial Club takes work from people outside school to raise money for these awards.

The Commercial Club-represents some of the hardest working students in school. Good work kids!

The Science Club is composed of students interested in doing more in a chosen field than the regular course permits. The groups are Biological, Physical, and Chemical and each member of the club is in one of these divisions so that he may specialize. They perform experiments separately and then once a month hold a joint meeting in which they discuss their findings with the rest of the group. In this way everyone profits and learns.

The Girls’ Athletic Association worked under a new system this year. Composed of freshman, sophomore, junior and senior girls, the club did away with dues. The Board of Education furnished money to cover all expenses.

The club organized hockey, archery, and tennis teams. The tournaments were held at Bowcraft on Route 29.

Later on in the year basketball games were held with other schools. In these games the girls played others of the same class.

In the spring the club played softball with girls from other schools in our league.
VARSITY CLUB

ADVISOR—RAYMOND CALLAGHAN

The Varsity Club is made up of the outstanding members of our athletic teams. They hope to maintain good sportsmanship between the members and outside teams at all times.

In November the Varsity Club sponsored a very successful dance. All of the teams from the schools we played this year were invited. Bob Blackman's band played and a talent show was held as entertainment. This helped to bring about a friendly feeling among the opposing schools.

The orchestra is the aristocratic section of our music department. It plays for our more serious programs including the Honor Society Assembly and Graduation.

One night this year the orchestra entertained the children at Bonnie Burn Sanitarium. The same program was used as we heard and enjoyed at the "Night of Music."

We take a great deal of pride in our music department and hope that it plays an even more important role in the years to come.

President — ROBERT FOWLER
Vice-President — ALLEN WELDON
Secretary-Treasurer — MARY JANE DAVIS

ORCHESTRA
In Scotch Plains High, when we hear a few mellow bars of "Moonglow" we know that the Moonglowers are practicing for some big event.

The Moonglowers are our dance band and one that we are mighty proud of. They play in the annual "Night of Music," they play for the Senior Banquet, and also they put on one assembly a year for us. This is comprised of the program they use for exchange assemblies in other schools.

Mr. Wojnarowski leads the band and he works hard as do the members. Result? Really wonderful music.
TWIRLERS

A sparkling baton and high stepping in time to a stirring march introduces our vivacious twirlers. Their talent has added a great deal of zest to our football games at the half and before the game.

A note of thanks goes to the twirlers, who do their best and always seem to add that extra zing to the band, and certainly to the game.

Drum Majorette . . . . Shirley Clawson
Captain of Twirlers . . . . Peggy Green
Advisor - EDWARD WOJNAROWSKI

The band is one of the most respected organizations in our school. By playing at the assemblies, the members help greatly to raise our school spirit. Another activity of the band is its participation in the "Night of Music." Under the capable direction of Mr. Wojnarowski, the members, besides playing good music, strive to achieve teamwork and improve their musical ability. We could never do without the band for it is one organization which plays a major part in making our school what it is.

This is the 25th anniversary of Senior Chorus and another prosperous year was begun with the Annual Christmas Program. A new system was tried and found to be successful. The boys chorus and the girls chorus were combined and they practiced twice a week. As a result, finer music was produced. Several popular songs were among the many melodious tunes in the Annual Choral Festival. The program was a huge success.

Thank you, Miss Swetland, for you and your chorus' grand work.

A small selected group of girls make up the Las Cantadoras. They practice after school on their own time and sing for many outside organizations. The selections that these girls sing are more advanced than the regular chorus pieces and the girls handle them exceptionally well. Thank you girls, for representing our school.

These familiar girls deserve many thanks for adding more color to our games this year. They have promoted a general friendliness and cooperation throughout the student body.

Among their activities this year were “The Kickoff”, a dance held in the fall, and the annual “Goal Post Hop” in the spring.

This year Scotch Plains High was represented by a hard working football squad coached by Mr. Callaghan and Mr. Aajker.

Even with all the effort on the part of both coaches and team, the season’s total of games showed one victory over Cranford at 18-2, one tie with North Plainfield at 6-6 and six lost.

In every game, whether everything was going well for us or not, our boys played fair and square and showed fine sportsmanship and good spirit at all times.

Off to a slow start this year, the basketball team improved with each game. Led by Frank Scuderi, Don Egan, and Billy Lee, and coached by Mr. Dettmar, the team regained their winning ways after snapping a four-game losing streak by trouncing Madison. The sophomore prospects are good and the future seems bright.

Head Coach — Alfred Rahn
Managers — Garland Booth, Bill Andrews, Douglas Closterman

The 1950 baseball team of Scotch Plains High School did not have a very impressive record. However, they did gain victories over Holy Trinity, Chatham, and Roselle Park.

Mr. Rahn, the coach, had many underclassmen to work with. The seniors on the team were Bob Angle, Sabino Venezia, Arthur Di Nizio, and Bill Franklin.

The return of Robert Fowler, Edward Hatfield, Robert Renkas, Frank Scuderi, Robert and Bill Lee should give next year's team plenty of experience.
After a top-notch 1949 cinder season, Scotch Plains Track enthusiasts and participants are looking forward to another championship campaign. Last year, with an almost complete Junior and Senior membership, our squad lost only to a powerful regional aggregation who just squeaked past us. This year should be no exception. The group picture is of the newly organized cross-country track team who will try their luck next spring.

CLASS HISTORY

Looking back now, it doesn’t seem possible that just six short years ago we first crossed the threshold of Scotch Plains High School as a complete living body, the class of 1951. Then with bright worshipful eyes we gazed up at the awesome seniors and asked ourselves, “Will we ever make it?”

During our seventh and eighth grade years we followed the carefully enclosed path called the core system. We carried impressive looking notebooks and yes, believe it or not, we even did our home work. Remember all those A’s and B’s? Reminds one of the song, “Where Are You, Now That I Need You?”

Our freshmen year brought us a sense of freedom. We were more united under the leadership of Tom Montagna, our class president. Never will we forget our first class project, the Sadie Hawkins Day Dance. Tickets sold for 35c stag or drag and a riotous time was had by all.

With our Sophomore year came our first semi-formal, the Sophomore Hop. We spent hours cutting out bright red and white hearts and decorated the gym — only to have the decorations gracefully concede the battle and fall slowly to the floor in the middle of the dance. Despite our troubles, everyone had a good time and this evening will always remain a glowing ember in our memories.

We have set aside a special shelf in our memories for our fun-packed Junior year. The lovely smells drifting out from the chemistry room; our first attempt at dramatics, “Headed For Eden;” and the nostalgic Junior Prom. Another joyous event occurred in our junior year when the first “hot rod” obtained his long-coveted driver’s license.

Suddenly, before we knew it, the path, though not always clear of obstructions led us to our goal and to a new, more difficult path which we must follow. This year we have enjoyed the exclusive use of the senior stairs, the upper corridors at noon-time, and all the other greatly desired Senior Privileges. We will always remember Scotch Plains High School, Mr. Adams, our teachers, and our friends with a feeling of warmth and gratitude. No matter what the future holds in store for us we know that we, the class of 1951, can enter this bewildering world confident that –

“Time Marches On!”
REMEMBER WHEN

...we were underclassmen

We, the class of '51, have done loads of silly things. We have always gotten into more scrapes and predicaments than our teachers like to be reminded of. However, since we never were little angels and never pretended to be, let's look back on the funny things that happened to us with a good laugh!

In eighth grade Miss Mingle “volunteered” Bill Keller to carry the flag in assembly one Friday. Come assembly time, Bill and three other boys all slicked up in their Boy Scout uniforms and shaking nervously, performed the flag ceremony well. As they crossed the stage to put the flag in its stand, Bill’s assistant was to tighten the stand to hold it. The boy failing to do this, Bill bent down to help and in doing so his pants ripped. The flag stood in its stand and Bill walked off the stage with a very red face and a promise never to volunteer for anything again.

As Carol Ann entered the ninth grade general science class one day, her news with Betty. Mr. Remcho called the class to order but Carol Ann and Betty kept right on talking until they were hauled up in front of the class. They laughed and looked meekly at Mr. Remcho who turned a generator, handed Betty a piece of wire and told her to hold Carol Ann’s hand. The two of them got the shock and embarrassment of their lives!

While we were busy little freshmen in S.P.H.S., Sonny Carri was at Plainfield High. One of his favorite classes was swimming class. To cut down dressing time, the boys wore their street socks in place of sweat socks down to the pool. On the way back, they carried their socks wrapped in a towel to their lockers. One day as Sonny unravelled his towel he found only one sock. It was too late to go back to the pool, so he had to wear one sock for the remainder of the day. In the next few hours a bewildered freshman found out how many people notice your socks, especially when one is missing.

When he was a sophomore, Don Egan worked a starting position for the first J.V. basketball game of the year. He was so nervous that he could hardly hold the ball. When the game started, he began running around like a chicken with its head cut off. The coach saw he was doing no good and placed Don on the traditional bench for some time. Suddenly, near the end of the game, the coach put him back in. He didn’t even know which basket he was supposed to be in. He ended up in the wrong corner of the court and that’s all. After three miserable games, the Varsity needed three players and John became one of them.

When John Goltra was a junior he played J.V. basketball. However, the Varsity needed three players and John became one of them. John spent so much time on the bench that his pants collapsed. In the alumni game he got his chance. In the game went John, knees knocking, teeth chattering, really embarrassed and on the verge of a nervous breakdown. When the ball came his way he ducked. When he threw it, it went out of bounds. If he shot, he missed. He was nervous and afraid he would step all over the girl. To make a long story short, he did until about the third dance when the steps started to come back to him. The rest of the evening turned out well and they had a good time. Although Dave never found out the girl’s side of the story, that’s the last date his mother will ever fix for him and also one dance neither he nor the girl will forget.

During one chemistry lab period dealing with the use of phosphorus, Mr. Tilley carefully explained that a piece of the chemical the size of a split pea should be used. It also had to be kept under water or it would burst into flame. Ed Hatfield and Allen Weldon got ready to do the experiment. Ed was carrying a piece of phosphorus the size of a large marble in a spoon and was just rounding the desk in the front of the room. Mr. Tilley’s cabinet when the phosphorus burst into flame. Ed aimed for the water trough, threw the stuff and missed. It landed on the floor and filled the room with smoke through which Mr. Tilley yelled. The smoke got thicker, Ed attempted to put the fire out by stamping on it but his shoe promptly caught on fire. He took it off and handed it to Russ who dunked it in some water. Tommy threw more water on the floor and extinguished the fire. In five minutes everything was back to normal except for the fact that Ed had detention. Oh well, someone has to pay for the so-called best years of our lives.

When John Goltra was a junior he played J.V. basketball. However, the Varsity needed three players and John became one of them. John spent so much time on the bench that his pants collapsed. In the alumni game he got his chance. In the game gone John, knees knocking, teeth chattering, really embarrassed and on the verge of a nervous breakdown. When the ball came his way he ducked. When he threw it, it went out of bounds. If he shot, he missed.

After the Cranford game in the 1950 football season, Louise Dawe was standing by Harold Hill’s car talking. As someone called to her, she turned to leave. There was one hitch though, quite a big one I’d say, for Louise’s dungarees didn’t leave the fender but parted in a foot and a half-long rip. Louise turned purple while everyone laughed. This just added to general good humor which was roaring through S.P.H.S. after our one victory of the season.

It seems characteristic of our class that we repeat some of our escapades. That is why this story began with a rip and ended with a bigger one! Anyway, we the class of ’51 want to wish our successors as many happy times as he had and more!
MEMORIES
The annual Senior Play, "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay," presented on March 2nd and 3rd was a memorable experience for us all. If we live to be ninety we'll never forget the way the girls looked in their snappy flapper outfits, the fellas with their hair parted in the middle, and above all Bud Soden as Otis "the leper" Skinner with his pants rolled up singing, "Bed bugs away, ye lads." We all know the play would never have been a success without Miss Higgin's guiding hand. She put in many extra, patient hours with us. Jean DiFrancesco was her able assistant and Betty Delnegro prompted.
